FIGHTING TO END CORRUPTION & ENSURE FREE AND FAIR ELECTIONS

Rick --

They resemble people, but they're missing the core elements of humanity. And there are so many of them! That's what makes zombie movies so terrifying.

Now imagine a democratic republic that looks normal -- but is secretly decaying and dying. Is that any less terrifying?

In a recent NPR/Marist poll, an alarming 40 percent of Americans said they no longer believe elections are fair. And nearly half lack faith that votes will be counted accurately on election day.

In addition, 93 PERCENT OF VOTER RESPONDENTS believe elected officials listen more to deep-pocketed donors than voters (Issue One).

Major drug distributors spent a whopping $102 million on drug enforcement laws in 2014-2016. Then Congress sided with them instead of Americans by agreeing to a more industry-friendly law. At the time, America wanted more regulation as we were at the height of the opioid crisis with 200,000 dead.

According to a Rasmussen Report poll, 75 percent of Americans believe we are losing the War on Drugs. We know lawmakers aren't doing enough to save people from dying of addiction. Yet Congress isn't listening.

The causes are well-known. Special interests, corruption, compromised elections, dark money, doubts about voting technology, and the inability of normal citizens to run for office has contributed to unprecedented levels of pessimism and cynicism.

It's clear this "living dead" democracy is not what the Founders intended!
